DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The objection to the specification, outlined in the previous Office Action, is maintained for reasons of record. Contrary to applicant's assertion, MPEP 1893.03(c), section III, states that the 371 parentage of the application must appear either in the first line of the specification, or in an Application Data Sheet. In the instant application, the parentage does not appear in the first line of the specification. Nor is there an Application Data Sheet of record in the application.

112 Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of claims 12-17 under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, outlined in the previous Office Action, has been overcome by applicant's amendment. The amendment narrows the scope of the claims appropriately.

102 Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of claims 1-17, in so far as they read on the species defined in the previous Office Action, under 35 USC 102(b) has been overcome by applicant's amendment. The amendment narrows the claim set such that it no longer reads on the cited art.

Allowable Subject Matter

The elected species remains free of the prior art.

Applicant having overcome the outstanding rejection, the search was therefore expanded as called for under current Office Markush examination practice, a compound-by-compound search, to include a single additional compound. That compound is defined when: $R_1 = \text{halogen} = \text{F}$; $R_2 = R_3 = R_4 = R_5 = R_6 = R_7 = \text{H}$; $X = \text{O}$; and $n = 2$. A rejection follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-17, in so far as they read on the species defined above, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO2000001388 (CAPLUS abstract of record, last compound on page 52). (The examiner notes for clarity of the record that this is the same prior art compound which was used in the 102 rejection of the previous Office Action.)

Applicant's compound is an adjacent homolog of the prior art compound. That is, the instant compound and the prior art compound differ by only one carbon in a carbon chain.

Adjacent homologs are considered to be obvious absent unexpected results. "Presumption of unpatentability arises against [a] claim directed to [a] composition of matter the adjacent homologue of which is old in [the] art; burden is on applicant to rebut presumption by showing that [the] claimed compound possess unobvious or unexpected beneficial properties not actually possessed by [the] prior art homologue; it is immaterial that [the] prior art homologue may not be recognized or known to be useful for [the] same purpose or to possess [the] same properties as [the] claimed compound...". This is so because: "[C]haracteristics normally possessed by members of homologous series are principally the same, and vary but gradually from member to member; chemists knowing properties of one member [of the] series would in general know what to expect of adjacent members." In re Henze, 85 USPQ 261, 263 (CCPA 1950). Members of a homologous series must possess unexpected properties not possessed by the homologous compounds disclosed in the prior art. In re Hass, 141 F.2d 127, 60 USPQ 548 (CCPA 1980).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
